Free Press: News of a sad drowning accident comes from Penitence, B.C. A party of immigrants, from across the line, bound for Edmonton, N.W.T., were camped near Penitence creek. Among the families were three girls, aged respectively 14, 8 and 4 years. The second girl in some manner fell into the creek and her elder sister rushed to her rescue, and after heroic struggles managed to bring her to shore; but the little 4-year-old child had in the meantime fallen into the water and was swept away by the stream, swollen by the prevailing freshet into a fast-running torrent. The body had not been recovered at the time of the last reports.

THE daily Tribune of June 14th contains an account of a complimentary dinner tendered by the law students of Calgary to Messrs W. B. Osbourn, N. F. Mackay and William Short who as the result of the recent law examinations had left the ranks of the law students and entered those of the advocates of the Territories. In making his reply to the toast of the health of the guests, Mr. Short who has since begun the practice of his profession in Edmonton, said "he was much touched by this unexpected tribute of regard from his late comrades on the eve of his departure to try his luck in the north. He was certainly going 'higher up' and time would tell whether that was the only advancement he was likely to attain in connection with the profession. He only trusted he might meet with the same generous treatment in the northern metropolis that had always had extended to him in Calgary, which for many reasons he was leaving with great regret." A toast to the chairman proposed by Mr. Short, brought the proceedings to a close. The students afterwards adjourned to the house of Senator Longhead, who was desirous of giving Mr. Short a personal "send off" where a most enjoyable evening was happily terminated.

THE Sim Fax company of entertainers, had an entertainment on Thursday evening and Friday morning last which was more unexpected than pleasant, in connection with their visit to Fort Saskatchewan. The Ups left Edmonton on her trip down the river about 3 p. m. on Thursday, with a party of about forty excursionists, and reached the Fort safely. The weather however which was cloudless in the fore part of the day turned showery in the afternoon and the party trudged from the boat landing to the vil--big pardon, town--in the midst of a pouring rain, for which none were prepared. The entertainment was given as advertised, to a good house, but the fun only commenced when the entertainment was over and the time for starting home arrived. Commodore Fraser objected to starting until daylight, and the excursionists insisted on an immediate start as the Fax company were billed to appear at Calgary on Friday night and therefore required to catch the morning train at Edmonton. A start was made about one o'clock and good progress was made up stream until when opposite Point Le Pie the boat ran on a sand bar and stuck hard and fast. After several hours of ineffectual effort to get the boat off the Fax company got ashore, hauled up Tom LaBelle, a farmer on the north side, who again hunted up his team and then the baggage of the party and started for town, still about twelve miles off. The party reached town a few minutes before eight o'clock and telephoned to the station asking the train to wait a few minutes until they could get across. Either the telephone message was misunderstood or the train could not wait. At any rate the train gave its parting whistle while the party were crossing on the ferry and they arrived at the station about five minutes too late. This compelled them to lie over at Edmonton until to-morrow morning and to either cancel or postpone engagements which they had at Calgary and points west.

It is reported that some settlers along the Calgary trail have built their fences so as to encroach on the road allowance of 60 feet wide. Whether this is done through negligence or design all parties interested should understand that it is illegal and that if necessary the machinery of the law can be put in motion to prevent this trespass on the public right. This trail is a great public convenience and having been legally established, it must not be interfered with.

THE annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday school was held in the Hermitage grove on Saturday afternoon last. The day was beautiful, and there was a large turn out of children and their friends. The school children occupied four busses which were loaded down. On arriving at the grounds on the banks of the creek below the Hermitage, lunch was served. The afternoon was occupied with swinging, racing and amusements generally, the picturesque grounds, the property of Canon Newton, adding very greatly to the attractions of the occasion. Tea was served at 5 p. m., and the return journey to town was completed about 8 o'clock without mishap.

THE OLD TIMERS.

The organization of an association of old timers is a proper and seemingly thing at this time, in this more than in any other place in the Northwest, for Edmonton was the first place in the Territories in which agriculture and civilization secured a foot hold and is the oldest and most important field of commercial and missionary enterprise as well. While it is the oldest place in the Territories it is also the newest, and to day it is attracting more of the attention of the outside world than all the rest of the Territories together. Edmonton is the scene of the very latest rush to a new field, and consequently from day to day is taking on new aspects in accordance with the increase of its population and the development of its resources. Edmonton is to-day in process of becoming one of the most populous, important and wealthy portions of the whole Dominion, and at the present rate of progress it will not be long before that position will be reached. It is the way of the world that when a height has been climbed the ladder is either ignored or kicked away. But the world is not always wise in its ways. If it were it would be a very different world. It is generally conceded that a knowledge of the means by which success has been attained is one of the essentials in retaining success, and that the qualities which make success are the qualities which best can keep it. There is a tendency in Canada to ascribe the existence, not to say progress, of settlement in the Northwest, to the exertions of a more or less enlightened and patriotic government and to providence as dispensed by Sir Wm. Van Horne. If this idea is correct it should be maintained; but if it is not correct its being held is likely or even certain to lead to wrong and injurious conclusions. Edmonton town or district is not the creation of the government or of the C. P. R., neither is it here by the breath of accident, and nothing could prove this more clearly than a muster of the old timers of the place. Some of those who now hold a leading position amongst the financial heavy weights of the town had identified themselves with Edmonton and achieved moderate business success before the Canadian government acquired control of the country, and it is not too much to say that a majority of those who now hold the leading positions in the commerce and agriculture of the town and district were here before the C. P. R. was built to Calgary, or there was any prospect of a railway to Edmonton. The point of this argument is that the success of the country came by reason of the goodness of the country and the energy and perseverance of the people in the country, not by reason of fake advertising or government or railway booming; and the further point is that as the country was not made by government or railway booming, it cannot be unmade by the lack of them should such lack occur now or hereafter, so long as the country remains good and the people do their part. Of course this town and district would not be what they are to-day were it not for the railway and for the assistance given by the government to the railway. But on the other hand there would not have been any railway yet or probably for many years had not the energy and chiefly the persistence of the pioneers demonstrated beyond doubt or question the great richness and the vast and varied resources of the district. One railroad or forty railroads cannot make a good country or an energetic people. But a good country in the hands of the right kind of people will bring railroads, government recognition, and all other accessories of civilization. An association whose existence is standing information to the public of the facts as stated cannot fail to be of benefit to the community at large by tending to inspire a feeling of self confidence that is highly necessary in all, but is sadly lacking in some new settlers, who are ready to run at every cry of "wolf" that they hear. It is the stayer who wins if he stays in the right place; and that this is the right place, the fact that such a large proportion of old time stayers have won is plain evidence. So much for the first object of the association, namely the preservation of the early records of the place. Now as to its social side. All the old timers have not been winners. There is no race in which all can win. All may have an even start, all may have an equal spirit, but circumstances and accidents intervene and many a man who deserves success is distanced in the race. And yet the man who lost may have done as much according to his opportunities towards the general success as the man who won, or he may have done actually more. His present position is no guide to the value of the services rendered. Even though these services were small his presence and persistence in times of difficulty and disheartenment have been a help and have contributed to the present success. The formation of an association in which the standard of membership is effort rather than result, and in which so many of those who have been unquestionably successful took part, is a graceful thing and reflects the highest credit upon all concerned.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Prince Albert Times speaks of copious showers and assured good crops in that district.

Prince Albert is to have a newspaper called the Advocate, managed by C. R. Stovel; the Innisfail Independent is another venture, projected by John E. Bronser; the Macleod Gazette is changed to the Sentinel, with D. H. Murphy as new manager. The Moosomin Spectator company will publish a paper at Grenfell.

Commercial: A local system of grading butter was established a couple of years ago at Birtle, in this province. An inspector was appointed, who graded all butter before it was purchased by the local merchants. Three grades were established, and prices fixed according to grade. No. 2 was valued at two cents under No. 1, and No. 3 at three cents per pound under No. 2. This made a direct incentive to make good butter, under which the quality produced in the district decidedly improved. Those who could not or would not take the pains to produce good butter, stopped making it altogether, much to the relief of the local merchants, who were obliged to handle the poor stuff, usually at a loss. This spring the plan of butter inspection has been allowed to lapse, and as a result the quality of the butter has already begun to deteriorate. This indicates what has often been stated in the Commercial, that the custom of buying butter at one price regardless of quality, is very detrimental to the country, as well as unsatisfactory to the merchants. It encourages the production of an average poor quality of butter, and reduces the profit which the producers as well as the merchants should receive from making and handling the commodity. At the same time, merchants find it almost impossible to make any distinction in buying butter, without a system of inspection which will relieve them of the responsibility of classifying the commodity according to grade, as they would certainly lose the custom of any one whose butter would be given a second or third classification. Nevertheless an effort should be made, wherever it can be carried out, to establish a system of classifying butter, and paying a price for it in keeping with its quality.

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP TACHE.

The BULLETIN is indebted to the kindness of Rev. L. Fouquet, of St. Joachim's mission, for the following sketch of the life and labors of the late Archbishop Tache:

The Most Rev. Alexander Tache, the late Archbishop of St. Boniface, was born at Riviere-du-loup, Quebec, on the 23rd July, 1823. Father Guignes, afterwards Bishop of Ottawa, sent him in a bark canoe on the 24th June, 1845, to St. Boniface, where Bishop Provencher ordained him priest on the 12th October of the same year. The following day Father Tache, still a novice, made his solemn profession as a missionary Oblate. At once he began his missionary travels and labors. In 1846 he was far north of the Saskatchewan establishing an important mission at Isle-a-la-Croix. In 1847, leaving his mission under the care of Rev. Father Lafche, now Bishop of Three Rivers, he travelled far in every direction—to Cariboo lake, to Athabasca lake, etc., until 1850. In that year, being chosen coadjutor of Bishop Provencher, he went to Europe, where he was consecrated bishop. In 1852 he was back at Isle-a-la-Croix. He travelled part of the way with Father Lacombe, whom he sent into what is now the districts of Edmonton, Lesser Slave lake and the Peace river to replace the venerable Father Thibault. In 1853 he sent Father Remas, now of St. Albert, to establish a mission at Lake Labiche, which had been visited only occasionally since 1844. In 1854 he came to Fort Pitt, Edmonton, Lake St. Ann and Lake Labiche, visiting and organizing all the missions. He went in the same year to St. Boniface to take possession of that see left vacant by the death of Bishop Provencher. In 1855 he was again back at Isle-a-la-Croix with Father—now Bishop—Grandin, whom he sent to Lake Athabasca, while he sent Father—afterwards Bishop—Faraud to Great Slave lake. In the meantime Father Lacombe by his direction was organising permanent missions at Lesser Slave lake and on Peace river, which had only been visited occasionally. In 1856 he again visited Lake Labiche, Lake Athabasca, etc., and returned by Isle-a-la-Croix to St. Boniface. After stopping three weeks in St. Boniface he started for Canada and Europe to negotiate several important affairs, amongst which was the nomination of Bishop Grandin as his coadjutor. In November of the same year he had returned from Europe to St. Boniface, where he remained organising new missions and parishes in various directions until 1861. In that year he started to visit all the principal missions of the Northwest, Isle-a-la-Croix, Edmonton, Lake St. Ann, etc. Amongst the new missions he organized on this visit was St. Albert, which he entrusted to Father Lacombe. He returned to St. Boniface to find his cathedral and most of his establishments a heap of ruins by fire. Thence he started for Quebec and Europe and was back in St. Boniface in May, 1862, after having got Father Faraud appointed bishop for the Athabasca-Mackenzie country. In 1864 Bishop Tache started again to visit the missions of the Northwest, Isle-a-la-Croix Lake Labiche, St. Albert, Edmonton, Lake St. Ann, etc., to return only in 1865 to St. Boniface. Having provided two bishops for the Northwest and Athabasca-Mackenzie territories, the first field of his labors, he turned his special attention to St. Boniface, taking always nevertheless a deep interest in the religious affairs of the territories, to which he paid his last visit in 1892.

CRICKET.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN,
June 21st 1894.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

SIR: North Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan participated in a game of cricket on Saturday June 16th, in which the former club came out victorious, winning the match by something over one hundred runs. We acknowledge our defeat and take our medicine like men, but we don't admit for a moment that we were defeated by North Edmonton, or in other words, by one club; as the case should be, but by an eleven picked from South and North Edmonton. Now the question arises: In an individual match of this kind is it fair that an eleven should consist of picked men from two clubs, even should they claim a membership in both. We don't think so. We have a faint recollection of a big kick being made not a very great time ago on the same question by the captain of the North Edmonton club, when Fort Saskatchewan sent two of their men to play for Clover Bar in a match, and I think we are entitled to kick a little now on the same basis, if we are a little late in the day. When the Edmonton club came to Fort Saskatchewan in answer to our challenge, we were all more than astonished to see some of South Edmonton crack cricketers on the team. Of course we raised no objection at the time, but we thought it rather funny all the same. Some hints were thrown around the grounds that day to the effect that we had some members from Clover Bar who had no business in the match, but we assure them all that this is not the case, as all men on our team that day claim no relationship whatever to Clover Bar. We do not wish to cast any reflection on the playing of the North Edmonton club, but we simply wish to overcome an objection, which I should think we are entitled to do. In conclusion we are always ready to meet the Edmonton club single handed, but we cannot play against such odds as in the last match. We hope that the next time we play North Edmonton we shall make a better score.

GEO. M. ROSS,
Secretary F. S. C. C.

GENERAL NEWS.

Kaslo, B. C., suffered from a severe storm and flood on June 3rd. Kootenay lake rose 30 feet. Sixty or seventy houses were swept away and damage done to the amount of $100,000. Communication was cut off until June 6th.

The prospectus of a new weekly paper for Prince Albert, the Advocate, has been received. It will be published by the Advocate Printing company, C. R. Stovel manager. It will be a four page 28 column weekly, and will be independent in politics. Battleford Herald: A party of four Germans arrived down the river a few days ago, having worked the bars for gold all the way from Edmonton, wherever the water would permit. They have not yet decided whether they will remain here or proceed further down the river.

The latest accounts from the flooded district of the Fraser Valley, B. C., it appears that the water was still rising. The total of homeless ones are made up thus: Delta municipality, 2,000; Lang 1,500; Matsqui, 1,000; Sumas, 500; Chilliwack, 3,000; Richmond, 1,500; Burnaby, 8,000; Coquitlam, 200; Maple Ridge, 500; Mission, 5,000; Dewdney, 500; Nicomen, 300; between Nicomen and Yale, 200; and Yale 300.

Calgary Herald: Among the industries springing up in Alberta none offers greater prospects of success than does the Innisfail creamery. The separator plan has been adopted, with the cream gathering stations at Penhold, Tiadastoll, Little Red Deer, Bowden and Kneehill, thus covering the whole country round for a radius of twelve to fifteen miles. It is expected that before the season is over the company will be exporting two carloads of butter a week.

Commercial: The damage from floods has been more severe in the Pacific coast states than in British Columbia. The Columbia river valley in Washington and Oregon states has suffered particularly, very severely. The fertile bottom lands along the Columbia River from the Rocky mountains to the sea, a distance of 600 miles, were all inundated. Crops were ruined, houses washed away and stock drowned. The salmon-canning business has been almost annihilated. The government locks at the Cascades were in danger. Many buildings were lifted from their foundations. Of the ten large steel bridges which spanned the Spokane river in Spokane all but two were gone or closed as unsafe. Reports from the Cœur d'Alene country show that there was still from ten to twenty feet of snow in the mountains, and that the St. Joe and St. Mary's rivers and Cœur d'Alene lake were rising. Farmers along the river are destitute, having lost houses, barns and stock.

Kamloops Sentinel, June 15: Meagre as has been the information so far received of the damage done in the Lower Fraser valley, there is little doubt that the loss of property has been appalling, and it is fortunate that the loss of life has been so small. The number of the farmers in the valley between Agassiz and New Westminster who have escaped loss is very small, while many have lost practically all they possessed. Their dykes have been broken down, buildings have been wrecked, personal effects damaged, if not destroyed, and stock drowned. The little that is left is so insignificant as scarcely to be taken into account. In a week has been swept away the labors of years and only the land remains. Subscriptions lists to aid the sufferers have been started in New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver. Sir W. C. Van Horne is said to have subscribed $1,000, and others unasked have contributed liberally. From a telegram received by Mayor Lee on Saturday last it is the evident intention of the New Westminster committee to lay the true state of affairs before the people of Kamloops at a public meeting it is proposed to hold next week. Kamloops and vicinity, except in a very few cases, has suffered only inconvenience through the floods which have devastated the lower country. A few individuals have lost, some of them heavily, but the general community has not suffered, in fact, it is doubtful whether the business of the city has not been increased through becoming the only available point from which supplies could be procured for the extra gangs of workmen and the delayed passengers.

OLD TIMERS.

The meeting of Old Timers of Edmonton called for Friday evening last in Robertson hall was well attended both as respects numbers and representative character, the assemblage including a large proportion of the leading men of the town and district. Donald Ross was elected chairman of the meeting and A. McNicol secretary. The chairman made a few remarks setting forth the objects of the proposed association, which were the preservation of the early records of the district, and the promotion of good feeling and sociability amongst those who had borne such an important part in the development of this region. After some discussion and a vote being taken, it was decided on motion of Geo. P. Sanderson and P. O'Rielly that all who came to Edmonton before 1883 be eligible for membership in the association. The idea appeared to be to draw the line between those who came by trail from Winnipeg and by train to Calgary. The only point of difference was as to those who came from Swift Current by trail, as all did who came in during the first half of 1883, or until the completion of the railway to Calgary in the summer of that year. On motion of Jas. McDonald seconded by A. Coghlan this provision was extended to include any person who came to any part of Alberta before 1883, and who is at present a resident of the Edmonton district. James Gibbons was elected president of the association, Donald Ross 1st vice president, Jas. Reid, Fort Saskatchewan, 2nd vice president, and W. Cusi, 3rd vice president. The following were elected a working committee: Geo. Gagnon, P. O'Rielly, Donald McLeod, Murdoch McLeod, R. Hardisty, F. Oliver, Dr. Wilson, John Norris, senior. A. McNicol was elected secretary treasurer of the association.

The general meeting then resolved itself into a meeting of the association, the president Jas. Gibbons in the chair. The name of the association was fixed as the "Edmonton old timers association" and the membership fee was placed at 50c. On motion of D. Ross seconded by F. Oliver the object of the association was declared to be "The preservation of the early history of the settlement and the social and friendly relations of the pioneers of the district." It was decided that the annual meeting of the society be held on the second Friday in September of each year, and that the proceedings close with a dinner. The working committee was instructed to frame by-laws for the association with the assistance of the secretary.

The roll of membership was signed by the following persons, with the dates of their arrival at Edmonton:

James Gibbons	1865
Donald Ross	1872

On motion of F. A. Hardisty, Angus Fraser of Calgary, was elected an honorary member. It was decided that the officers and members of the managing committee should meet on Tuesday July 3rd for the transaction of business.

A vote of thanks to W. S. Robertson for the use of his hall was carried and the meeting adjourned. There was no attempt at speechmaking but Mr. D. Ross gave some interesting and amusing reminiscences of old times and recited an original poem descriptive of the method of cooking "richard" a staple dish of the country in the days of the buffalo.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

On Thursday afternoon last a boy named August Trager, son of Wm. Trager of Black Mud was shot in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a playmate Edward Globstien. Both boys are about nine years of age and the families are close neighbors, having come from Russia together last year. The gun was a rusty double barreled breechloading shot gun, the locks of which were not in good order. The hammer of the right hand lock would not rebound, but pressed on the needle all the time when not cocked. The Globstien boy opened the breech and put in a cartridge and in closing the breech the needle, pressed down by the hammer, struck the cap of the cartridge and discharged the gun the shot striking Trager in the forehead above the right eye. Some of the shots penetrated the eye ball, compelling the extraction of one eye and possibly of the other. The injured boy was brought to town on Saturday for medical treatment. Both families are very poor and the father of the injured boy is absent at present looking for work. He left some weeks ago and it is not known where he is at present, but he is supposed to have gone to Calgary. The boy is lying at Mrs. Young's house, Jasper avenue. Dr. Harrison is in attendance.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE.

The St. Jean Baptiste society were fortunate in having excellent weather for their annual celebration held to-day. The sky was cloudless in the morning and not oppressively warm. At an early hour people began to arrive from a distance to take part in the procession. The Columbia hotel at which the muster took place was decorated for the occasion with flags and evergreens. Promptly at 10 o'clock the procession started and moved along Jasper avenue to St. Joachim's church in the following order: Major, Joseph Brunelle, mounted; Union Jack, Edmonton brass band in uniform; banner of the Fort Saskatchewan society between two mounted men; carriage with four mounted men, carrying the emblem of the society, a little boy—son of R. Duplessis—holding aloft a cross with a lamb beside him. Then the flag of the Edmonton society, followed by the members of the society on foot. Then a carriage in which were the president, George Roy, vice-president J. H. Garipey and Mayor McCauley, and a number of other vehicles occupied by friends of the society, including a large proportion of ladies. Mass was celebrated in St. Joachim's church, and the picnic is now in progress. Dance to-night in Robertson hall.

MASONIC SERMON.

THE festival of St. John the Baptist, patron Saint of Free Masonry, was observed in due form yesterday, Sunday, June 24th, by the Edmonton lodge, No. 53, A. F. & A. M., and visiting brethren. The members and visitors to the number of 50 met at the lodge room when the lodge was opened in the third degree. A procession was then formed in the following order: Edmonton fire brigade band; Tyler, W. McKay; director of ceremonies, James Ross; senior and junior stewards, K. A. McLeod and Jos. Hursell; master masters marching two and two; secretary and treasurer, R. B. Ferguson and J. A. McDougall; chaplain, Jas. McDonald; senior and junior wardens H. C. Taylor and W. G. Ibbotson; pastmasters Thos. Bellamy and J. J. Dunlop; senior and junior deacons, N. C. Flater and E. Raymer; worthy master, C. W. Sutter. All were in regalia and presented a very fine appearance. The line of march was along Jasper Avenue to Robertson's hall, where the sermon of the day was preached by Rev. Brother Stunder, rector of All Saints' church, from the first epistle of John, 4th chapter and 7th verse, "Beloved, let us love one another." The large hall was crowded by Masons and their friends, and a most impressive discourse was delivered. The singing was by the choir of All Saints' church. At the close of the service the Masonic procession formed again and proceeded to their hall in the Taylor block, preceded by the Fire Brigade band.
